Alaska Student Assistance Fund

The Alaska Student Assistance Fund (ASAF) is designated to assist Alaskans in meeting their tuition expenses at a Seventh-day Adventist (SDA) academy outside of Alaska. ASAF will match the amount given by a local church (up to $500 per semester) to aid a specific student. Funds will be applied to the student's account on a semester basis; churches may choose to send both terms in at once.

The application should be received at the Alaska Conference of Education as early as possible to insure adequate consideration. At any time, if there are more requests than available funds, the distribution will be on a proportionate basis.

It is recommended that parent(s) and the student be members of the local SDA church, in good and regular standing, and be tithe payers.

Applications will be considered only if fully complete with all requested documentation and matching funds.

The conference will combine church monies with conference matching funds and send the money direct to the school.

Deadlines

- Applications received after October 30 will be considered for the spring term.
- Applications received after March 30 will be considered for the following fall term.
